

BORDEAUX SUMMER SCHOOLS

Time to apply!

The University of Bordeaux is pleased to announce that applications are open for its upcoming Bordeaux Summer Schools programme.

Taking place throughout June and July 2024, the programme offers a range of high-quality, international summer schools for graduate and doctoral students as well as young researchers. Topics cover a variety of disciplines, ranging from African studies to cardiology to advanced materials to gender equality to neuroscience and more!

These courses are highly selective and target international talents. Course content offers an enriching curricular experience with, depending on the discipline, a mixture of theoretical and practical training that demands a notable level of expertise and knowledge.

Application deadline: March 31st, 2024

We thank you in advance for communicating these opportunities to those who may be interested.
